EXTRA GOOD BILL AT WIGWAM.

The Wigwam today offers an extra groot Mill. Francis Bushman, the bero of "One Wonderful Night," will be seen in a romantic drama entitled "The Masked Wrestler." Mr. Bushman sheds his evening clothes and appears in the role of a man of strength. According to the criticism, he is as much at home on the mat as he is in the parlor and the wrestling much his an exciting one. There will also be the one-reel story of mystery. "What Became of Jane?" It tells of an unsophisticated country girl who went to the city and lothed the churus. Her surroundings were not all they should have been, but Jane remained until—well, come to the Wigwam and see "What Became of Jane." Her career will interest you.

Tomorrow, Dustin Parnum, the famous legitimate star, will be seen in Milton Royle's splendld drama. The Squuw Man." It is a production by the same company that made "The Master Mind." This is the Lazky company, which is a member of the widely severitized Paramount Festures. EXTRA GOOD BILL AT WIGWAM.

"Spartacus," GRECIAN.

"Spartacus," George Kleine's greatest of all motion pictures, will be the special attraction at the Grecian Thursday and Friday. The interesting and historical occurrences on which this motion picture classic is built are sensored with a finvor of remanticism that cannot fall to suit the taste of the most fusicious devotres of the photodrama. It deals charmingly with the unfaltering love of Spartacus gladiator and Thracian prints, for the daughter of the Roman consul. This great picture was produced by the Pasquall company, maker of "The Last Days of Pempell," at a cost of $250,000, employing 7500 people, also 40 lions, elephants, etc. It is said to be the greatest picture ever made. The admission will be 15c and 25c. Dor't forget the data—Advertisement.

acted. It is nearly all comedy, and the suggestion of tragedy, which is always lurking just around the corner, never devalops. The picture sells a story of a young girl who believes herself a great actress and goes to the large city, where of course, one expects her to be led netraly, but with excellent judgment she repolies the advances of theatrical managers and other men about town.

town. Wednesday, John Bunny, Mary Charleson and James Morrison will be seen in "The Honeymoners," a "silent comedy," by J. Staart Blockton, that ran 236 times at the Vitagraph theater in New York.—Advertisement.

KEYSTONE MYSTERY, GRECIAN. Be sure and see Episode No. II of the Million Dollar Mystery. It will be hown at the Grecian today for the set time. Last night hundreds were turned away, so come early.
Churles Chaplin Will also be on the Greeian bill today in a Keystone Kongoventilled "His New Profession." See Chaplin pull off some more original comedy. This is the best yet!—Adv.

Warehouse Measure; Suffrage Is Discussed.

Austin. Tex. Sept R.—The house emergency bonded warehouse bill as amended and passed in the senate was returned to the house this morning, but that body will not vote today on the question of consurrence or nonconcurrence in the senate amendments that question having gone over until tomornow.

Representative Humphrey sent up a memorial from ciliaens of Seymour in which they brotest against the passage of the emergency warehouse bill and urge the legislature to amend the present warehouse law and adjourn. The house refused by a vote of 88 to 48 to have this memorial printed in the Journal

A resolution signed by Allison and debers inviting Annette Pinnegan, president of the State Equal Franchise association to address the house, was adopted.

Senate Passes Wiley Bill.

The senate today passed finally the Wiley warehouse bill by a vote of 20 to 6 and the measure was immediately sent over to the house for action. This is the bill which provides for individual ownership of warehouses. The Darwin warehouse bill which is an amendment to the present warehouse law was also passed finally, without a vote against it. The Lattimore senate warehouse bill was killed by its author, who moved that further consideration be deferred until September 21. Senator Austin then called up his warehouse bill, which is similar to the Jordan house bill.

Senate Plaus Adjournment.

Enters Third Week.

On the third week of its existence the special sension has made slow progress in the consideration of the measures for which the extraordinary session was called. The house as usual is shead of the senate in its work, this being due in a great measure, to the skill of speaker Terreil in Keeping down politics in the house, while the senate is move of a political body than a legislative one.

Intire on a position poor than a regisintire on.

Suffrage Question Discussed.

It is understood a quiet poll of the legislature is being taken on the question of the submission at the next regular session of the legislature a constitutional amendment providing for women's suffrage in Texas. The poll is heing confined to the members who were resisted and from present indications, a majority favor the submission of this question to a vote of the people. Such a resolution was indly defeated at the last regular session of the legislatura.

al's department to furnish the legislature with any infirmation it may have in its possession on the subject except such data that may be required for forther prosecution of oil companies that are now violators of the anti-trust laws by operating cotton gina.

Senste Acts on Wiley Bill.

After considerable debate the senate passed to engrossment the Wiley warehouse hill which provides for the construction of buildings, covered platform and shall provides for the construction of buildings, covered platform and shall provides for the storage of cotton under the supervision of the commissioner of insurance and banking. This bill provides for the individual ownership and operation of warehouses, and those desiring to engage in this business must be licensed by the commissioner of insurance and banking, the licenses to pay an annual fee of $5 and the warehousemen to be bonded in an amount not less than 1900 nor more than $15,000 at the discretion of the commissioner. This bill also makes warehouse receipts negotiable and protected under the bond of the warehousemen. An effort to suspend the constitutional rule and finally pass the bill falled.

ton under the supervision of the commissioner of Insurance and banking. This bill provides for the individual ownership and operation of ware-houses, and those desiring to engage in this business must be licensed by the commissioner of insurance and banking, the licenses to pay an annual fee of 35 and the warehousemen to be boated in an amount not less than $1000 nor more than $15,000 at the discretion of the commissioner. This bill also makes warehouse receipts negotiable and protected under the bond of the warehousemen. An effort to suspend the constitutional rule and finally pass the bill failed.

ACCIDENTS ARE IMPROVING
The two victims of Labor day accidents are reported to be improving and will both recover. Leon Gillespie, who was thrown from his motor-cycle at the Jusces track, had a restless night, as he was braised on the body and was unable to sleep. His right leg was badly cut by the fall and his entire body bruised.

Atbest Ward, a carpenter who was struck on the head by a falling beam Monday morning, suffered a concussion of the brain but was reported to be resting well at a local hospital Tuesday morning. In addition to the concussion he has a scalp wound and a deep cut on the left cheek.

THE OPEN SHOP PLAN.

Los Angelez Calif. Sept. 8.—The open shop policy was strongly defended before the federal industrial relations commission today by Harrison Gray Otis, publisher of the Los Angeles Times. He testified that the general establishment of this plan would better the conditions of the laboring man. The publisher did not refer to the dynamiting of his building. He occupied the witness stand only a short time, promising to answer specific questions in a written statement to the commission later.
